This year's t-shirt design was still incomplete at the time we went to press with the forms. This is what we know: it will be a red shirt (Lillian Oppenheimer's favorite color), with a small logo on the front as below. On the back will be an image of Brian Chan's model, Attack of the Kraken (see <http://chosetec.darkclan.net/origami/kraken/>), which shows a giant squid attacking a full-masted ship and is folded from a single sheet of paper. See our website for a color version of the t-shirt once the design is complete.
